KNOWING YOUR FAITH

Obedying Parents and Those in Authority - The 4th

What does the fourth Commandment require of people? The fourth Commandment requires that we love, honor and, at a young age, obey our parents and lawful authorities. The first three Commandments of God have referred to our correct relationship toward the Lord, God. The last seven Commandments will be concerned with our relationship toward our neighbor, as is also the second part of the Great Command of Christ.

USCCB WORD OF LIFE

"The mystery of the redemption of the human person is rooted in the loving involvement of God with human suffering. Hope is always possible. To those who care for the sick, the scene of the Cross provides a way of understanding that even when it seems that there is nothing more to do there remains much to do, because 'remaining' by the side of the sick is a sign of love and of the hope that it contains. Healed by Jesus, we become men and women called to proclaim his healing power and provide care for our neighbors, until the very end." USCCB Secretariat of Pro-Life Activities "The Witness of the Good Samaritan: Palliative Care and Hospice"

ALL SAINTS DAY

All Saints Day celebrates all people who already see the face of God in heaven, whether or not the Church has canonized them. The Church celebrates this feast to remind us of all those ordinary men and women who, overcoming weakness and temptation and allowing the Holy Spirit to work in their lives, now share in the glory of Christ forever. These citizens of heaven are teachers of the Christian life, guiding us on the path to holiness. Celebrated the day before All Souls Day, this Solemnity encourages us to rejoice in the sanctifying work of the Holy Spirit throughout history. Champions of love, the saints enjoy the eternal happiness of God. The celebration of this feast has ancient roots. The commemoration of the martyrs began in the 4th Century, and Pope Gregory III chose November 1 as the date around the year 700. As Catholics, we ask the intercession of all saints and imitate their lives and virtues so that we might one day contemplate the face of God with them. "The souls of the just are in the hand of God" (Wisdom 3:1) As Pope Francis reminds us, "Holiness is the most beautiful face of the Church."
